

Decisions

Michael Pazen

As we drift apart    come together we continue    we cease    we begin to embrace    to withhold    to laugh at    to smile over our mishaps    our misadventures    the mistakes we made    our choices as they remain in    as they destroy    as they create    as they impact our past,    our future,    our present, illuminated by    overshadowed by our love
